he conference met at 10 o'clock this morning.
rayer was offered up by Rev. Dr. Mitchell. Rev. Mr. Srum, agent for the Metropolitan church in ashington, stated that since attending the last confer-oce he had made a tour from Boston to St. Louis, and and a general unanimity of opinion to exist relative to e action of the conference on manition, especially in the Western churches. A committee of three was ap-placed to confer with the agent on the subject.

Dr. Bond, editor of the Christian Advocate and Journal, ras, on motion, requested to take part in the proceedings.

The character of J. McBride was passed.

Rev. Dr. KENNADAY read resolutions prepared in rela-Rev. Dr. KENNADAY read resolutions prepared in relation to the decease of the late Rev. Robert Newton, D. D., of England, expressing the emotions of sorrow excited by the event which has taken from the bosom of the Wesleyan Methodist Church one who, by the numerous excellencies which adorned his character, was endeared to the entire family of Methodists.

The resolutions were passed unanimously, and ordered to be published in the Christian Advocate and Journal. The resolutions on slavery being the order of the day, were then taken up.

Rev. Dr. KENNADAY suggested the propriety of laying over the question, as the mover of the resolutions at the last meeting—Rev. Dr. Bangs—was not present, and in such a case it was a usual courtesy to postpone the question.

It being stated that he would not be present during the remainder of the conference, the question was taken up.

A motion was made to substitute for the resolutions the following.—"That the Conference are well satisfied with the present ducipline on alvery."

It be grown to the conference are well satisfied with the present ducipline on alvery."

It be grown to the conference are well satisfied with the present ducipline on alvery."

It to go forth state poor the conference are well satisfied with the present ducipline on alvery."

It to go forth state poor the conference are the church; and that when a slave enters the church he church; and that when a slave enters the church is establined. The church there took them to obey their masters above all. Want of Christianity was not considered a crime in slaveholing communities.

Its Flow moved to lay the amendment on the table.

Rev. Pr. Krass above expressed thinnel in favor of the bill provides upon in, he was not prepared to adopt the was far removed from the scene of slavery, and did not consider the greatest responsibility rested on him. If it was necessary to agints for the abolition of slavery he would go to the public square of the city, or any public convention; but he was here to associate with men to spread the Gospel, and not to introduce politics into the church; he would keep it from the senetuary of God. To preach the word was the mission given to him. If he understood aright, the word the ages and mayes were not recorded, and when they came back to their own body they were laid on the table. If they have failed to give it sanction, why should spee sanction it? If they failed to give it sanction as well and slam, with our precent rules, and hopping that the utterances of the church bere had been denounced as a bolitionist, but it did him no harm. He said that all members of the thory they have failed by a subject of slavery.

Mr. For said he had seen called an abolitionist, but it did him no harm. He said that all members of the church bere had been chey will stand up with renewed strength when they hear that the Methodist Conference of the city of New York seads them word of oncorragement. It is known that the Southern Convention now in season, purpose all the Southern Convention now in season, purpose shavery. Are we going to follow their example? The eyes of the ration are watching them and us. They say that the prehibition of any member of the Methodist Church to hold alaves is a dead letter, but we north of the Potomae will not say so, I hope. One section of the church (the Southern section) purposes to blot out all that portion of their discipline relative to slavery; resolutions are brought forward here, (in the conference of the Northern church) affirming what has been said before on the subject. And does the North swant to back out? No, no. If it were true in the eyes of high heaven I could not bear it. Do the people of the North want to hold a portion of their fellow men in bondage? In other with the fractures with those who hold their brethren is alavery? These resolutions are before us, and we are either to vote for or against them. Shall we stop here at this criss and say they are not logical? No, no. the public would misconceive us if we take this step. The question is simply this, are your postavery or anti-slavery? You have no alternative; you will either be looked upon as a pro-slavery body or an anti-slavery one, and would you, gentlemon, bear the stigms of being branded as advocates of slavery, ministers of the goapel as you are? Biscipline, or no discipline, will you go hand in hand with the slaver bed your characters will be branded for pro-slavery if we do not character and the say of the Methodist Church should be allowed to buy or self "men, women, and children," before it could prevent or deny them the right of dealing in human field and become the surface of the Methodist Church should be allowed to buy or self "men, women, or a child at any one time. They do not buy men, and most devoutly asy that. To prevent the errors to make i terations in the laws of our Conference when they require none. My name is signed against the Nobrasha bill, as a citiene; but I will not agree to petition against it as a body of clergymen. I would refuse to sign it in that form.

The Rev. Mr. Whys, late Missionary to China, next spoke. He began by referring to slavery in the East Indies, where some fifteen or twenty million natives were kept is captivity 15,000 Dutchmen. But there was no such thing as separating families there; and this was also the cases in China. Here in this land of freedom men are separated from their sives, wives from their husbands, and children from their parents, without any compunction whetever. If the Computer of the country as they will probably in a few year, they will country as they will probably in a few year, they will country as they will probably in a few year, they will country as they will probably in a few year, they will country as they will probably in a few year, they will country as they will probably in a few year, they will country as they will probably in a few year, they will be country as they will probably in a few year. They will be country as they will probably in a few year, they will be country as they will probably in a few year. They will be considered they will be supposed to the same and they will be year they will be considered to the country, people are beginning to any that our money goes to the extension of alavery. Now, what I want is to have the principles of our discipline is right, but the wording is wrong. I want our discipline is right, but the wording is wrong. I want our discipline to read so that we can say we have no one in our churches who are alaveholders.

City Intelligence,

PRESENTATION OF COLORS TO THE AMERICAN RIPLES.

Quite an interesting ceremony took place yesterday in front of the City Hall. The Seventy-first regiment American Rifles, Coloned Vosburgh, had presented to them by His Honor the Mayor, a stand of colors in behalf of the city. The regiment was drawn up in front of the Hall, and in the presence of a large concourse of people the Mayor made the following address:—

Colored Voshurgh—The stand of colors I now transfer to you are presented by the municipal authorities of this city, whom I represent on this occasion; and I america this mark of their regard and esteem. It is one of the noblest features of our georement that a standing army is unnecessary for the prosection of the rights of our people, or the preservation of our intitutions, for the whole experience of our country has preaven that avery American breast is a bunkler to guard American rights. The city of New York possesses more citizen soldiers than any other in the Union, and is vastly proud of them. The Rescue of the Winchester's Passengers.

At a meeting of the committee appointed by the merchants and clizens, convened at the Exchange on the 19th inst., to adopt measures to present proper testimonials to Captain Fitch, of the Washington, Captain Foster, of the Carrituck, Captain Young, of the Dirigo, and others, who have recently rendered efficient aid in saving the lives of passengers and crews of vessels in distress. P. Perit, Esq., was appointed Chairman, and Arthur Leary, Hsq., Secretary. On motion, R. Bell, Esq., was appointed treasurer of the committee, whereupon the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That considering the promptness with which the citizens responded to the call in the case of the San Francisco. regarding this to be an occasion appealing with similar force, and believing the voluntary contributions of the citizens will amount to a sum sufficient to carry out the object contemplated—

Resolved, That the citizens be requested, without further solicitation, to send their donations to the Treasurer, R. Bell, Esq., 43 Wall street, or to any member of the undersigned committee.
